STAT

Since Mr. Colby wrote to you on 22 May, we have explored job opportunities for you with all of the Agency officials who might possibly have an interest in your substantial background and experience. We are sorry that this extensive review did not result in our identifying a position at this time that would take advantage of your offer to serve with the Agency.

Although we do not have an opening for you now, your fine qualifications have been noted and we will get in touch with you should an opportunity of appropriate stature and challenge develop.

Sincerely

STAT

STAT Thank you for your letter of 28 November concerning possible employment with us when you leave the [redacted] in December 1973. It was good to hear from you.

We appreciate your kind offer to be of service to this Agency. It is too early to predict whether we might have any opening for you at the end of 1973 and I suggest that you write to us next July enclosing a short resume. We will be pleased at that time to give your application every consideration. I would be less than candid, though, if I held out much hope that we will be able to identify a vacancy commensurate with your talents. Personnel reductions during the past two years have restricted our professional input to entrance-level trainees and a few highly specialized scientific types. Wish I could give you a more hopeful answer but this is a truthful one. Drop me a line next summer and we'll see what can or can not be done.

Sincerely,

/s/ Vernon A. Walters

Dear Dick:

STAT Just in case you may have forgotten, I was the STAT [redacted] when you were the military STAT attache, and, of course, we met on a number of other occasions since then, particularly in [redacted]

STAT I have just completed a tour of duty in [redacted]
STAT where for the past eight months or so I was the sole STAT remaining [redacted] and helped put a few dents into [redacted]

STAT At the end of December of 1973, I will retire from the [redacted] However, since I still have plenty of energy left, I do not wish to retire into inactivity. And since I have a continuing interest in foreign affairs, I wondered if your Agency might have a place for me at about that time.

STAT For what it is worth, I was told that the White House and the State Department took a particular interest in the "products" I originated for [redacted] STAT [redacted] Incidentally, prior to STAT that I was the training adviser to the [redacted]
[redacted]

I would appreciate hearing from you at your convenience.

With best personal regards,

STAT
